

Here is an example of how to use sub-files in LaTeX

XAM NOSLIW

April 20, 2016

Contents

1	Shared Part	2
1.1	Comments from the first student	2
1.2	Comments from the second student	2
1.3	Comments from the third student	2
1.4	Comments from the forth student	2
1.5	Table of Contributors	2
2	First Part	3
2.1	Subsection number 1	3
2.2	Subsection number 2	3
3	Second Part	4
3.1	Subsection number 1	4
3.2	Subsection number 2	4
4	Third Part	5
4.1	Subsection number 1	5
4.2	Subsection number 2	5
5	Fourth Part	6
5.1	Subsection number 1	6
5.2	Subsection number 2	6

1 Shared Part

This could be the Shared Part of the document. It is designed to be written by all members of the team.

Each member should ideally write their details in the table of contributors in the Shared Part of the document, as well as write a subsection about their opinion on the G54FSE module this year, especially your comments on the module coordinator Max Wilson.

1.1 Comments from the first student

This is the first subsection. Do not forget to include the best parts about the module as well as what you did not like about Max Wilson during the term.

1.2 Comments from the second student

This is the first subsection. Do not forget to include the best parts about the module as well as what you did not like about Max Wilson during the term.

1.3 Comments from the third student

This is the first subsection. Do not forget to include the best parts about the module as well as what you did not like about Max Wilson during the term.

1.4 Comments from the forth student

This is the first subsection. Do not forget to include the best parts about the module as well as what you did not like about Max Wilson during the term.

1.5 Table of Contributors

But also a table of contributors:

Table 1: This is the table of contributors

Name	Student Number	Team Role	Skills

2 First Part

This is the section dedicated to one of the team members, and it should be written by individuals within the team.

2.1 Subsection number 1

this is the first subsection.

2.2 Subsection number 2

this is the second.

3 Second Part

This is the section dedicated to one of the team members, and it should be written by individuals within the team.

3.1 Subsection number 1

this is the first subsection.

3.2 Subsection number 2

this is the second.

4 Third Part

This is the section dedicated to one of the team members, and it should be written by individuals within the team.

4.1 Subsection number 1

this is the first subsection.

4.2 Subsection number 2

this is the second.

5 Fourth Part

This is the section dedicated to one of the team members, and it should be written by individuals within the team.

5.1 Subsection number 1

this is the first subsection.

5.2 Subsection number 2

this is the second.